Your Impact 2022

Everyone deserves a safe home.™

Dear Friend,

Your support in 2022 was crucial. It led us on an innovative path with a renewed mission and vision, and a clear journey for survivors.

Every survivor's journey is different with varying roadblocks, stops and side trips. But it's a single road to healing, and it's working.

Because of you, survivors are completing their journeys with Coburn Place stronger than ever. (One just bought a home!) And they're breaking the relentless cycle domestic violence can catch families in. You're changing lives for generations – and that changes communities.

Thank you for supporting us in what was a revolutionary year. You are part of a Coburn Place community that lives up to the promise of survivors and their children being able to imagine their own true and beautiful lives differently.

Here's to fresh starts,

Rachel Scott
President and CEO

Diamond's Story

When Diamond, left, arrived at Coburn Place with two toddlers, she didn't know was she was pregnant with twins. Then she lost her father and her brother, but she didn't lose her way. She worked hard every step of her journey and moved out of Coburn Place into a home she purchased.

"Coburn Place provided the foundation for me to reestablish my mental health and my mental strength and to believe in myself all over again. It provided a safe and secure environment for me and my children. I knew I was going to be fine."

GETTING SAFE

62
families lived onsite in transitional housing

83
families were housed in the community

100%
agreed with the statement "I feel safe"

BUILDING STABILITY

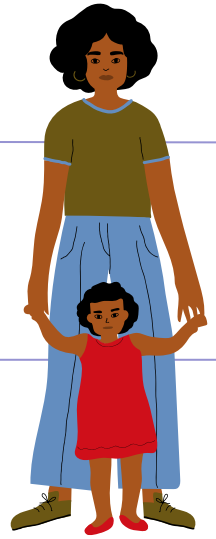
97%
of survivors actively participated in case management

106
kids participated in Children's Services

FOCUSING ON HEALING

66%
of survivors with kids participated in family activities with them

56%
of survivors participated in health and well-being programs



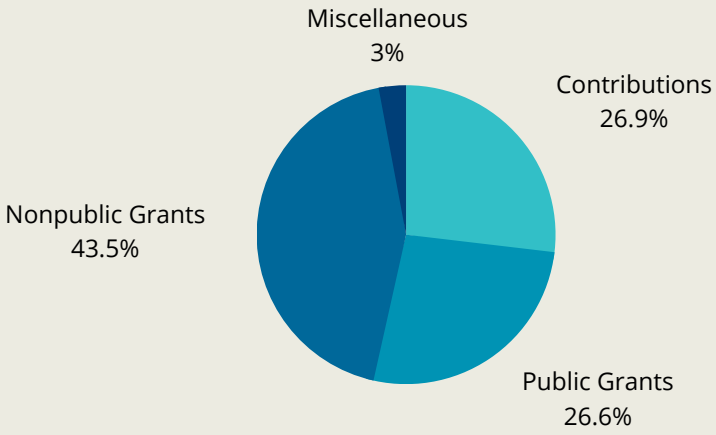
MAKING FRESH STARTS

83%
of survivors with known destinations exited from transitional housing to safe, permanent housing

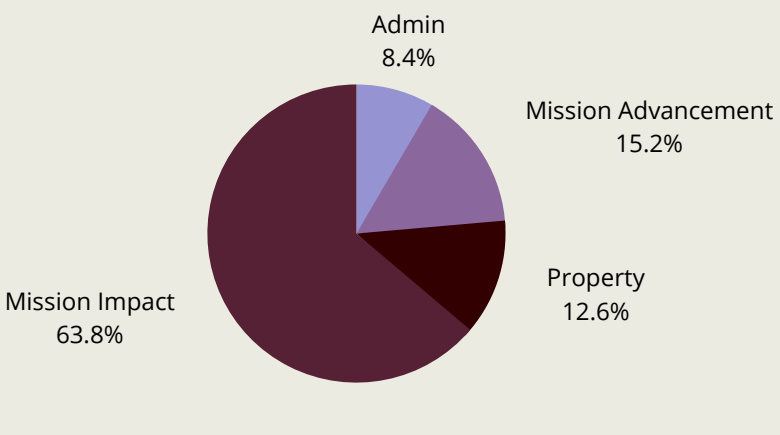
74%
of survivors with known destinations exited community-based housing with safe, permanent housing

Financials

Revenue



Expenses



A Connected Community

"Working a couple of hours every two weeks in the laundry pantry on very specific tasks gives me a feeling of accomplishment. It's my small way of supporting women who are working towards a safer, better life for themselves and their families."

Gen Wallace-Roe

696
people volunteered at Coburn Place

Volunteers gave 2,829
hours of their time

"I want to give back selflessly to a community that needs support. Giving my time for a good cause consistently has lifted my mood knowing that I am focusing my efforts to help other lives."

Susan Oxforth

The community gave $278,669
in donations of goods like household items, cleaning supplies, nonperishable food and diapers

---

"I love the sense of satisfaction and accomplishment I get after volunteering. I know that the time I spend on pantry donations helps the staff and the residents."

Cathy Kelaghan